

Beth Potter is an ESE teacher at Connections Education Center. She has been teaching students with autism since 2003. Prior to starting at Connections Education Center, Beth spent 1 year as an assistant at DDI in New York and 10 years as a teacher at Renaissance Learning Center in West Palm Beach. She enjoys teaching and likes to be creative to have her students fulfill their potential. In her spare time, Beth likes to run, travel, and go to Disney.